CHARLES THOMAS IRVING

The following information was obtained from the June 1880 Census; Inhabitants of Moss Point, Jackson County, MS:

Charles Thomas Irving was born in 1843 in Nova Scotia. Both his father and his mother were born in Scotland. He listed his occupation as a ship carpenter. The following persons are listed in the same dwelling: Sarah Mooney Irving, age 32, Albert J. Irving, age 6, George P. Irving, age 4, Margaret T. Irving, age 2 and Kate J. Irving, 5 months. Sarah Mooney's birth state is listed as Louisiana. Ireland is given as the country of birth for her father and mother. {Al and Madge were under the impression that their grandmother had come over from Ireland as a young girl; however, Sarah M. gave Louisiana as her birthplace in each noted census}.

In the dwelling prior to the one above, the census listed David W. Irving, age 36, occupation – General Merchandiser. Place of birth and place of parents' birth were the same as C.T.I. {Possibly a brother or a cousin}.

In January 1877, an item appeared in the Pascagoula newspaper (Star of Pascagoula) that a schooner had recently come off the marine ways of C. T. Irving.

In May 1877, an item appeared in the local paper that the marine ways and shed belonging to Mr. Irving at Moss Point caught fire and were almost entirely destroyed. The loss was about $1000. "He informs us he will have the ways repaired immediately, and will ready to haul out vessels within one week."

June 8, 1877, the following item appeared on the front page: "Mr. C. T. Irving lets the people know through the columns of the Star that at his marine slip and shipyard he is now prepared to do all work in his line. His location is at the intersection of Pascagoula and Dog rivers where he will attend to all business with dispatch. See his double column.

June 29, 1877, the following: "On Thursday of last week the schooner J. J. Clark, which had been thoroughly overhauled and repaired by C. T. Irving was launched from his shipyard at Moss Point in the presence of about 150 people. Mr. I. And his estimable lady prepared a fine dinner for the occasion, which was highly enjoyed by all present."

A large advertisement appears in the paper for the Marine Slip and Shipyard in 1878.

March 31, 1882, the following appeared in the local paper: "Capt. C. T. Irving, of Marshville (which is the name of the new town across the river) is adding more improvements to that town. In addition to his shipyard, shingleyard and steamboat wharf, he intends at an early day to put up a sawmill. We are rejoiced to see such prosperity in this new village." {The genealogist at the Pascagoula library was intrigued by the reference to a town named 'Marshville'. Perhaps this was a proposed name for a new area – it does not exist today}.

April 14, 1882, a large advertisement appeared for "New Venice Marine Ways", C. T. Irving, Scranton, Miss. desires to inform Ship Masters of owners of vessels that he is prepared to 'Haul Out and repair all Kinds of Vessels' entering the river – at the lowest rates and quickest dispatch." {At one time Pascagoula was known as Scranton, MS.}

From the columns of Arthur V. Smith*, February 11, 1968:

Organized in 1890, archives of the Presbyterian Church show that on April 16, 1890 a group of 16 Presbyterians met at the Methodist Church in Scranton to organize the church. The initial organization was completed by election of Dr. Bragg as elder and Messrs. W. K. Meade, W. M. Denny and C. T. Irving as deacons. Messrs. Meade, Denny, Irving, John Brander and F. H. Lewis were elected trustees.

A Sunday School was formed September 6, 1891 with Elder John Walsh as superintendent, C. T. Irving assistant and H. C. Herring of Moss Point secretary. The enrollment was 30 with five teachers

In 1890 the Moss Point Academy records listed Mrs. Irving as the Guardian of Albert, Percy, Madge and Daisy Irving. This would place the divorce between 1880 and 1890.

Democrat Star, Local News, February 17, 1893:

Capt. C. T. Irving has associated with him the saw mill business, Mr. John Cameron as a partner. Mr. Cameron is a native of Scotland and has for some time been operating in Florida. He is a thorough practical mechanic and experienced in the manufacture of marine woodwork. The firm will begin the manufacture of oars, the machinery for which has been ordered. They have commenced to construct a marine slip for hauling out vessels, in which enterprise Mr. George R. Thompson is connected. The capacity of the saw mill plant will be greatly increased.

From the History of the First Presbyterian Church according the records of Dora Cirlot:

On page 114 of Book Number 13 of the Record of Deeds of Jackson County it is recorded that in "July of 1893 the trustees did sell to C. T. Irving for $200.00 cash in hand the western end of the original lot. This part extended 75 feet east and west and 123 feet north and south. The congregation went immediately to work to build a house of worship.

On January 21 1894 Capt. C. T. Irving was elected elder to succeed Mr. John Walsh, who moved away just one year before. On the 4th of the following March, Capt. C. T. Irving was ordained and installed as elder.

On page 17 of the minutes of the session (date not given) is found this memorandum: "Owing to the official infidelity of the only ruling elder, Capt. C. T. Irving, who repeatedly refused to attend the services of the sanctuary or to meet at the call of the minister supplying the church for official business, no record of the session has been kept and the records have not been sent up to the Presbytery for examination."

But in August 1898, Capt. Irving resigned his office and according to the action of the Presbytery at its spring meeting the same year, this church was placed temporarily under the care of the session of the Moss Point church. {Perhaps an explanation here would be the divorce which was considered unacceptable at that time}

Charles T. Irving died August 25, 1914. He is buried at the Pine Crest Cemetery in Mobile Alabama. His age at time of death was listed as 73. {This makes 1841 as his year of birth. The burial information is from the Pascagoula library}. He is buried in Section 5, Lot 489, number 324.

Comments: There will be copies of the census records and also copies of the articles and ads mentioned available for you as soon as I can get them made. There was not enough time to get more information, which I feel certain is available at the Pascagoula library. The plan is to get back there in the near future and this time will definitely allow more time for research. Like you I'm curious about the divorce, but again the time was short. There is confusion regarding the birthdate of Sarah which doesn't help much.

Sorry about the delay in getting this to you. The thought was to obtain more data by using the new info in searching the web.

Perhaps you can add to this or have some ideas about where to go from him.

Love,
Marylyn

SARAH MOONEY RE: YEAR BORN

1880 Census Listed age at last birthday as 32 - This would make her birth year as 1847 (The census was taken in June - She would have been 33 in December 1880).

1900 Census Listed age at last birthday as 58 - This would make her birth year as 1841 (The census was taken in June - She would have been 59 in December 1900).

1910 Census Listed age at last birthday as 63 - This would make her birth year as 1846 (The census was taken in June - She would have been 64 in December 1910).

According to the two school records of the Moss Point Academy:

Date of birth on death record	1844
Date of birth on tombstone is	1846

This one has all the goodies. I didn't have any trouble opening this zip file which contains the documents and photos Margie Perssons, great-granddaughter of C. T. Irving sent. It is rich with information we didn't have. Yeah! If you have trouble opening the zip drive, he gives instructions at the end of the e-mail. REx can help you if you need it. Else if you can't open it I will send the files to you separately. I am back from a very nice weekend at Orange Beach. Was a great mental break too. Joanne

>Dear Margie, I am a correspondent for "The Mississippi Press" in Pascagoula and I write a weekly column on local history. A photo of the C.T. Irving home on Pascagoula beach recently came into my possession and I began research to get some information on the house. The Pascagoula library staff graciously shared with me all their files on the subject.

>I notice in your correspondence with Else Martin in 2001 there was no photo of Mr. Irving or any of the Irvings, for that matter, available. Wondered if by now you and your family might have found one or some. I am attaching this photo thinking you might not have it. It was in a collection of old photos that belonged to the E.H. Bacot family and was sent to me and Else by an Ocean Springs historian who got them from someone else.

>I will be glad to send you a copy of my article when it runs. If you have any material additional to what the Pascagoula library or any kind of family photo of any of the Irvings I would certainly be interested in having a copy to run with my story. Mr. Irving was a community leader, successful businessman and of course his woes with his second wife were rather colorful. I have not seen the family letter that said he actually married three times, but Else said it is in the library file. I somehow missed it.

>Any help you can give will be greatly appreciated. My deadline is this coming Tuesday. Anything I get after that can be used in a followup story.

History of Moss Point

part of Jackson county is concerned.

M. A. Dees
Agent Miss. State Board of Health

Numerous city ordinances were passed by the City of Moss Point from the time of incorporation until the State Health Department was firmly established. These included clean outhouses, no stagnant water, the establishment of a City Board of Health, requiring the local doctors, head of households, boarding house and hotels to report any invasive type of disease, such as malaria fever, chicken pox, measles, typhoid fever and many other so that preventative action could be taken to prevent further spread of the disease. Some ordinances prohibit the shipment of goods from neighboring cities, counties and state where quarantines were in effect. These ordinances also impacted rail and ship traffic into the city.

DEVASTATING FIRES AND STORMS

Today Moss Point has an excellent fire department with "paid" personnel and modern equipment, but they did not attain their ratings without travail and tragedies in this community that occurred prior to upgrading their training and equipment.

Griffin's Planing Mill burned May 26, 1875 with a total loss of $7,000.

On May 12, 1877, the marine ways and shed that belong to C. T. Irving caught fire and were almost entirely destroyed. The fire almost burned Bishop's boiler shop. Mr Irving's loss was about $1,000. He plans to rebuild.

Lumber Mills at Moss Point in Ashes - Loss over $40,000 - An Incendiary Does the Mischief

Friday morning last, at 1 o'clock, the bells of the mills along Dog river sounded out the dreadful alarm of fire, and within a few minutes the horizon was lighted up by the lurid flames that devoured within a short time the property of Messrs. J. W. Griffin & Co., of Moss Point. From Mr. J. W. Griffin we learn the particulars, which are as follows:

About 1 a. m. Friday the watchman at the mill heard a noise up stairs, and upon going to see what caused it found the north

SHIPYARDS IN MOSS POINT

In 1855, Joseph Hoyt Beardslee operated a Spar and Boatyard on Beardslee Lake.

In 1869 Walter Denny operated a shipyard near his mill site.

Dredges used in the digging of the intercostal waterway were built in this yard.

William Ehlers operated a shipyard on the East bank of the Escatawpa River near the present location of Halter Marine. He was in the process of building the schooner, the Henry Buddig, in May of 1875 when he died. The schooner was completed by his son, Charles Ehlers and was auction off at a latter date to settle lien against the estate. The Harry Buddig dimensions were: Tonnage, gross 149.50, net 142.03; length 105 feet 9 inches, beam 26 feet 2 inches, depth of hold 7 feet 2 inches.

On about June 16th, 1890, the Henry Buddig went aground, fully laded, at Cape Gracious, Nicaragua and was considered a total loss.

By 1877, C. T. Irving, had established a shipyard in Moss Point. One of the schooners that he overhauled was the J. J. Clark.

In September 1881, the Democrat - Star refers to a drowning at Mr. Archibald's shipyard in Moss Point. In July 1883, the steam tug, Wild Gazell, was hauled out of Archibald's ways. A new boiler was put in and a new cabin built.

The DeAngelo Shipyard and sometimes called the Italian Shipyard was established in 1881(1882) by John DeAngelo on the east side of the present day causeway off of Highway 613 on the Escatawpa River. This road was called at that time Randalls' Road which led to Randalls' Ferry. The road and area around the road was the result of sawdust and scrap lumber from Denny's sawmills.

John DeAngelo, who had a degree in Marine Architecture, came from a family of ship builders in Italy. Soon after settling in Moss Point he established the Italian Shipyard. Arthur V. Smith wrote that DeAngelo Shipyard built and repaired more barges, schooners, and tugs in his yard than any old time shipyard. Cyril Edward Cain states, "The yard was established in 1881 and operated until 1934. During the year 1917 announcements were made by several shipbuilding companies of the construction of some thirty-four vessels at a cost of over twelve million dollars. One of these companies was that of John DeAngelo."

The Italian Shipyard letterhead stated they would take contracts for wooden ships, schooners, barges, and tug boats at fair and reasonable prices. The yard did not use modern blueprint but worked with Scratch Boards and Half Models. A scratch board was as its name states, a drawing of a ships dimensions on a piece of lumber by an awl. The boards were used by the workers in the yard and the paper drawings in the office and loft to make wooden patterns for use by the workers in the yard. The two "main" workers or supervisors, at the yard, were his two sons, Frank and Steve. Steve was in charge of the loft, patterns and design. Frank was in charge of construction. The schooner "Flechas" was launched May 18, 1888. It was one of the finest vessels that sailed the waters.

The schooner J. W. Froast was launched January 24, 1890.

In 1890 the Italian shipyard was moved from it first location to the site of the old Archibald yard, just below the Pascagoula Lumber Co., planing mill.

The new stern wheel steamer, "Captain Fritz: built by Angelo Bros. for Capt. Fritz Lienhard, was launched May 1, 1892 at the Angelo Shipyard. Hundreds of people had assembled to witness the event. The boat was built for the Pascagoula River trade; is 100 feet long, 25 feet beam, and when fitted with machinery and ready for work, will draw only 13 inches of water.

In December of 1901 a new barge Capt. Joe, named for the genial Capt. Jos. G. Brisolara was launched from the shipyard of Mr. John Angelo. The barge is 85 feet long, 28 feet beam and 6 1/2 feet depth of hold and was built for Mr. A. F. Dantzler.

Many of the barges built by the yard were special shallow draft wooden barges to haul pulp wood from the north part of the count to the new Southern Paper Company in Kreole, Mississippi.

The sons of John DeAngelo continued operating the yard for many years after the death of their father. Frank returned editor of the Northwestern Lumberman, of Chicago; W. Butler Duncan, A. C. Danner and Mr. Craighead, local reporter of the Register of Mobile. The following account was taken from report in the Register.

The first stop made after leaving Mobile was at Webb's Landing, at the crossing of Dog river. The name of this place has been changed to Venetia, in honor of the name of the mill located there by Danner Land and Lumber Co. The party inspected this mill. It had been running about one week and was especially constructed for the performance of a great deal of first class work. The capacity is about forty thousand feet a day, which is equal to eighty thousand mill sawing white pine. The power comes from four boilers, supplying steam to two engines, geared together. This method is not usual in this section, and is adopted with the belief that it will produce good results. The machinery is all of the latest style and seems to work very smoothly - considering the short time it has been in operation.

Car tracks run up either side of the mill, and cars can be loaded directly. The same is true of barges, which can be brought close to the mill on the water side. The product is to be taken to Mobile by rail, except sawn timber towed directly to vessels. As an adjunct to the mill, the company will shortly build extensive kilns in Mobile. Here also the product will be put through the planer.

The steam feed works beautifully. It comes from Marinette, Wisconsin, and is Prescott's patent. The feed is prompt, precise and rapid; and Mr. Danner is very proud of it.

The visitors after inspecting the mill, took train and journey about thirty miles further west and crossed to West Pascagoula, Miss., where the creosote works of the Louisville and Nashville are located. Here the piles used in building the tressling across the inlets of Mississippi Sound are saturated with oil of coal tar, to preserve them from the attacks of the teredo uavalis' commonly known as the teredo.

Pascagoula has two divisions, West and East, and the two are far apart, divided by rivers and long stretches of marshes. At West Pascagoula is the Gautier mill which supplies lumber to the creosote works. East Pascagoula or Scranton is the port of Moss Point milling country. The party upon arriving at Scranton, took the steam tug Fox, operated by Capt. Howze, and went up the East river to the lumber mills. Viewed from a distance Moss Point presents a beautiful picture. A number of mills are seen clustered together on either banks of the stream and all are working to the highest tension, and throwing into the air vast clouds of steam and white smoke. The Northern visitors said: "This looks like business." At Scranton the vessel passed the mill of C. T. Irving & Bro., and also the new mill of the Meade Brothers. These later mill men came lately from Indiana and have had their new mill running about two weeks. The capacity is about twenty thousand feet a day, and the product is sold to the Danner Land and Lumber Company.

The boat proceeds up the stream. Here William Griffin milled for many years and built up a fortune. He was the pioneer in the business. His son-in-law, L. N. Dantzler, now runs two mills and a planer on the opposite side of the river from the site of the original mill. The capacity of the mills is 30,000 feet each. Dantzler is going to build another mill upon the site of the Griffin mill, which was destroyed by fire eight or ten years ago.

Denny's is the next mill. He has three mills, two on the right bank and a planer, and one on the left bank, the last not running. He cuts about 30,000 feet daily. A trim little schooner lay close to the Denny mill; she sails to the West Indies, and carries about 100,000 feet. She can load about half at the mill, but has to go outside the bar for the remainder. Were the bar dredged, plenty of water can be found outside to float good-sized lumber vessels. At present no vessel drawing more than ten feet can get into the Pascagoula River. Therefore, the lighter business is a thriving one. A small appropriation from congress would be of immense benefit to the growing lumber interests of Moss Point, and would greatly aid Scranton also.

Next in view is the great DeSmet mill on the left side as the tug steams up the river. It is a mammoth establishment, containing two mills, circular saws and two gang saws. The mills are illuminated with arc electric lights, and are run night and day. The product of the mills is between seventy-five and eighty thousand. DeSmet is from Belgium and is an enterprising lumberman.

On the opposite bank is Moss Point proper. It is a pretty little village of two or three thousand inhabitants, and has a nice post office and some very well kept stores.

A. Blumer, a German, appears to be the most thriving citizen. He has a steam tannery, grist mill and shoe factory. Above his factory is the building of the glass works. Some Pittsburg people established the worked. Sawdust is now

Church Endures Time

The First Presbyterian Church of Pascagoula on the southwest intersection of South Pascagoula Street and Ingalls Avenue will be 79 years old on April 26, 1968, but its house of worship has been on that site only since October, 1955.

Previously the church and the manse were on Canty Street and Convent Avenue, south of the site of the Chancery Court building. The church sold its properties there to the county on March 21, 1955, for $20,000.

Five years later the county acquired adjoining property on the north to Watts Avenue from Mrs. Leona Pelham Alley for $30,000. However, the county did not take possession until after Mrs. Alley's death when her dwelling and the little brick church and the manse were sold for off-site removal. The new Chancery Court building was erected on the combined sites in 1966.

Rev. Arthur M. Schneider, who became pastor of the Pascagoula church in February 1947, said he and church officers have commissioned Architect Claude H. Lindsley of Ocean Springs to prepare plans and specifications for a Sunday School room on the south side of the church and a Fellowship Hall on the west. The estimated cost of both is $150,000. Rev. Warren W. Beale, who recently became the church's associate pastor, is assisting in the planning.

The First Presbyterian Church had acquired its present location several years before the new church was built for $35,000 from the Gulf Oil Company, after selling another lot it had previously purchased on South Pascagoula Street. The new building was erected at a cost of about $125,000. Mr. Schneider said they had received generous contributions from non-members, one being from the late Mr. R. I. Ingalls, Sr., and Mrs. Ingalls who donated the organ.

The new edifice was completed in October of 1955, and the dedication and first services were held by the membership on October 15. By 1958 all indebtedness incurred in the construction had been paid, with the membership increasing rapidly as new families of the Presbyterian faith moved into the city.

ORGANIZED IN 1890 Archives of the church show that on April 26, 1890 a group of 16 Presbyterians met at the Methodist Church in Scranton to organize the church. The Presbytery at New Orleans had appointed R. Q. Mallard as moderator and Rev. D. O. Byers and Dr. W. D. Bragg of the Moss Point Presbyterian Church as other members of a committee.

The initial organization was completed by election of Dr. Bragg as elder and Messrs. W. K. Meade, W. M. Denny and C. T. Irving as deacons. Messrs. Meade, Denny, Irving, John Brander and F. H. Lewis were elected trustees.

Previous to that meeting and until their own frame building was erected on Canty Street at Convent Avenue, the members held services in the Methodist Church.

The records are not clear as to dates of acquisition of the church site but it was bought from James Smith and measured about 123 feet on Canty Street and 188 in depth. The lot cost $400, and the frame building $2,302.31. Edmund Mitchell donated the bell.

A note in the minutes of a session on August 30, 1891 records: "This beautiful summer day will be long remembered by the members of the Scranton Presbyterian Church. After long and earnest effort in the midst of almost insufferable difficulties our church home is so far near completion as to be used, and our first services were held in it today."

Rev. D. O. Byers of Moss Point preached twice a month in the afternoons and on every fifth Sunday in the morning. A Sunday School was formed September 6, 1891 with Elder John Walsh as superintendent, C. T. Irving assistant and H. C. Herring of Moss Point secretary. The enrollment was 30 with five teachers.

A financial report that year showed an income of $506.50 from 19 members. $100 went to the pastor and the balance for congregational expenses and benevolences.

In 1895 the church was destroyed by fire of suspected incendiary origin. With the small insurance payment and by incurring debts the church building was rebuilt.

On October 5, 1905, a committee, composed of Rev. J. Frank Turner, Andrew Gray and G. B. Chapman was named to build a home for the pastor. This was completed at a cost said to be $4,000, and put the church heavily in debt.

Miss Lulu Moore was in town Saturday shopping and visiting friends. The schooner Otis with Capt. Fred. Sten as master arrived from Havana Monday after a propitious trip covering 10 days.

Mrs. H. M. Hendrickson left Monday for Mobile to visit her husband who is under treatment at the Providence Infirmary.

The bar of this county have endorsed Judge Thad. A. Wood for re-appointment as Judge of this circuit court district.

The splendid little tug Chicago owned by Mr. W. O. Clark, of Pascagoula, has been remodeled and fitted out with a gasoline engine.

The DEMOCRAT-STAR don't print all local happenings in and around town. Much that is left out would be good Sunday reading.

The oyster and fish industry of Pascagoula bay and adjacent fishing grounds has always been a source of revenue to many engaged therein.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Nelson and daughter, Misses Nelsens and Lena, spent Sunday at Ocean Springs, guests of Capt. N. Hanson.

Miss Lillian Alley is at home this week recuperating from a severe attack of measles contracted at school in Mobile.

The Giriot-Holmes Lumber Co.'s mill at the Blanchard ship-yard site is doing very active business, sawing 35,000 feet of lumber a day.

Mrs. Eugene Joanen and pretty little daughter Adriene, of New Orleans, is on a visit to their relatives here, Mrs. E. Cox and Mrs. J. A. Kathman.

Miss Antonia Barriere, of New Orleans, attended the marriage of her relative, Miss Fannie Donovan to Mr. R. Longbridge on Monday last.

The dredges continue to do steady and efficient work in dredging the river channel. The excavation of sand is daily filling the low places along the river bank.

Mr. W. Wilkes, the genial proprietor of the Biloxi Herald, and his son were in town Friday and gave the DEMOCRAT-STAR office a welcome.

Rev. E. W. Van Hook will preach in the Methodist church Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. He will also preach at Pascagoula in the union church at 4 p. m.

On the fourth Monday in April, it being the 23d day, the celebrated sensational case of Mrs. Arden-Irving-Dr. Oakwood will come up for trial. It will doubtless be rich, rare and racy—in other words, "hot-stuff."

H. P. Weiss ("Clip"), the irrepressible representative of the New Orleans Picayune, was here Monday on business for his paper, and showed his handsome phiz in the DEMOCRAT-STAR office. He says he is opposed to trusts of all kinds, and he never trusts anybody.

Progress on the L. N. Dantzler Lumber Co.'s new log railway in course of construction from Bluff Creek to Howison, Miss., a distance of 35 miles, is well advanced in the grading. Rails will reach Bluff Creek to be laid as fast as the road bed is built. The road will run through and tap a fine timber region.

Quite a large crowd of men and boys, and two ladies were present in the court room Thursday of last week to hear the habeas corpus case of Dr. Charley Oakwood, alias Wood. Of course the men feasted their eyes on the remarkable husband-catcher, Mrs. Arden-Irving-Oakwood, etc., etc. No flowers were presented this wonderful female.

We understand that for sometime back the stores, bar-rooms, pool-rooms and other business houses are kept open after 12 o'clock Saturday nights, and even as late as 2 o'clock Sunday morning. This is merely to remind the proprietors that they are violating the Sunday law, and unless they desist they may get themselves into trouble. A word to the wise is sufficient.

We are glad to see that the L. & N. management is paying some attention to Hetty Green Park by putting out live oak trees and boxing them to prevent stock from destroying them. It is to be hoped that in the near future magnificent flower beds will blossom and a new fountain grace the Park and other...

The people of his district will put him back in the place whether he be willing or unwilling. He is indispensable to this section and to the State. We have said, and reiterate that Mr. McLain is an ideal Congressional servitor. He is not a spasmodic worker, but a steady laborer, alert, tireless, wise, expending no energy aimlessly or fruitlessly. There is not a taint of demagogism in his honest spirit. He serves the people from a sense of duty, not from a sense of policy. We have not heard of any one who proposes entering the race against the best Representative the district has ever had. To apply a phrase well used and known, it would be a waste of time and money to antagonize the able and efficient Sixth District Congressman."

Capt. C. T. Irving, of Scranton enjoys the distinction of being the husband of a woman who has been married to no less than a dozen men in different parts of the country, nearly all of whom were alive and tolerably healthy at the same time and from whom she had thoughtlessly neglected to procure divorces. Acting under a similar impulse, she forgot to tell each succeeding husband the circumstances connected with her life, but after she married Captain Irving the affair leaked out and has now become public property. On account of this and other irregularities she has been placed in jail to await trial and answer the charges of such surviving husbands as care to make complaint about numerous and divers affections being trumped in the dust, and whose pocket-books have been pathetically "touched." This lady is evidently of Mormon extraction.—Lawrence County Press.

Expansion means either the violation of the Constitution, or the admission to citizenship in the United States of a lot of niggers, chinamen, dagoes and other mongrel races, who are as incapable of understanding free institutions as a lot of wild boars. And it also means that American laborers are to be placed in competition with Philippine laborers, who are paid—the best skilled labor—$1 50 per week. Expansion will do alright for the millionaire who would own his princely estate in the Philippines and work them by slave labor at starvation prices, and then sell the products at a good profit in competition with the fruits of the toil of free men, but I see nothing in it for the Southern laborer or planter. It is an old saying that God made the country, but man makes the town. This is true, and if our people are really awake they can in a few years have many towns and a great commercial city, from Elder's Ferry south to Bayou Cassotte.

The mention of Bayou Cassotte reminds us that even to that old staunch and conservative W. Denny & Company have "expanded", and bought up the great Frederic property, and here we are led to say that "expansion is in the air."

I believe that nations, States and communities, like individuals, have missions to perform, and when the Lord says go forward they should obey.

I have seen a great deal written about "The Prince of Peace" and such rot, but my Bible declares that He said: "Think not that I came to bring peace, but a sword." I would like to know of Bro. Bryan what he thinks of God's command to Israel to take the land of Canaan and kill all the people. Christ will be the "Prince of Peace," but not until all opposition and Satan are put down. Our South Mississippi Coast.

Aberdeen Examiner.

Friend P. K. Mayers, of the Pascagoula DEMOCRAT-STAR eulogizes our lovely South-Mississippi coast. Nothing he could say in its behalf would flatter or exaggerate. Old Baron Humboldt, one of the greatest travelers, wrote of it nearly a hundred years ago as "the most salubrious spot on earth," and the whole world will endorse him in the near future, and eighty miles of sea-front will be a continuous row of villas, hotels and sanitariums; the winter health resort of the North; the favorite and restful resort of the people of the Southern cities and the valley plantations.

If Mary who owned the little farm were here it would no longer be Mary but the fascinating and charming Miss Mae. When a certain girl started to school several years ago her name was Bridget. The next year she changed it to Bridgetta. During the second year she dropped the first syllable and became Etta. That developed into Margaretta and finally into Marguerite. That is a long jump from Bridget but it seems to be the order of the day.—Hattiesburg Progress.

Sunday 10:00 AM. The goats, hogs, dogs and cats have control of our streets. What is to be done about them?

The grand jury was in session four days last week and returned into court by seven true bills.

The tug Seminole and schooner L. N. Latzler were repaired at Frentz's shipyard a few days ago.

Mr. Nick Bruhan and family, of Mobile, are occupying the Paquette cottage for the summer season.

The Methodist Sunday-school children will hold their annual picnic today (Friday) at Bayou Chicot.

Mr. J. M. Gribel and family are occupying the Belmas store house and dwelling on north Pascagoula street.

We are glad to learn that there is a movement on hand to beautify and improve the Pascagoula cemeteries.

Arthur Anderson, a 15-year-old youth, son of Rev. Geo. Andersen, died at his father's home at West Pascagoula.

Wonder who was the "well-known citizen" of Scranton that drove Mrs. Merle Marpet Irving to Orange Grove?

Some of the questions to be propounded by the census takers will almost paralyze some of our citizens to answer correctly.

Pictures of Marpet-Oakwood-Irving were sold on our streets last week. What a morbid taste some people have.

It is whispered that another saloon will be opened at Pascagoula, notwithstanding the objections of many residents thereof.

Sheriff R. J. Longbridge left Monday evening for Jackson with Mrs. Frank Baskin, where she will be placed in the lunatic asylum.

Mrs. L. M. Hand and children have returned from New Orleans to Pascagoula to spend the summer. They are occupying the Walker cottage.

Mr. J. T. Rigby and family will shortly remove to Escatawpa, where Mr. Rigby has accepted a position with the Moss Point Lumber Co.

Mr. W. T. Norton, nee Daisy Saucier, spent several days with her parents at West Pascagoula, recently, returning home during the present week.

The Lutheran Sunday-school children enjoyed a picnic at Bayou Chicot last Friday. It was a pleasant affair and all came home happy for being there.

Circuit court adjourned late Thursday evening of last week. Full proceedings thereof are to be found on the first page of the DEMOCRAT-STAR this week.

Circuit court has adjourned, thank the Lord, and Merle Oakwood-Marpet Irving and Dr. Chas. Oakwood have fled the country, and Scranton is again serene.

Mrs. Henry H. Frentz and baby son left Saturday on a visit to Miss Mallie Jones at Seminole, Ala., accompanied to Mobile by her sister, Miss Melba Collo.

Mr. W. D. Bullard attended the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias this week at Columbus.

Mr. B. A. Farnsworth and family removed to Pascagoula Tuesday for the summer season.

Miss Mattie Foxworth, of Columbia, is visiting her relatives here, Mr. J. I. Ford and family on Pascagoula street.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Swartwout, of Swartwout, visited the editor's family on Pascagoula street this week.

Next Wednesday evening a garden party will be held at the residence of Mr. Joseph T. Johnson for the benefit of St. Peter's chapel.

Miss Nelsona Nelson returned from New Orleans Wednesday. She was accompanied home by Miss Clara Peters, who will remain for sometime.

Rev. Father T. Stevin, S. J., delivered an eloquent lecture on "education" Wednesday night to an appreciative audience at the church of Our Lady of Victories.

Miss Jessie Lynn, third assistant teacher in the public school here left last week to join her parents at Prescott, Ark.

During her stay Miss Lynn made a host of admiring friends in Scranton who regret her departure.

At a meeting of the Pascagoula Commercial Club a committee was appointed to consider the propriety of booming our deep water port and the advent of the Pascagoula and Northern Railroad by holding a basket picnic on the bay shore on about July 4th.

Mrs. E. Frank Griffin with her infant left Wednesday for Meridian on a visit to her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Dillenhay. She was accompanied as far as Mobile by her husband, who attended the Alabama Dental Association meeting held in that city.

The woods are resounding with shouts from the children, rippling laughter from the pretty maids, and the heartier bursts of merriment from the men and matrons, as they picnic beneath the shade of the luxuriant and sweet-scented magnolias on the shores of Pascagoula bay.

Bridge Foreman A. J. Davis, who supervised the work of repairing the break in the L. & N. bridge at West Pascagoula, is entitled to great credit for the manner in which the task was performed. It is the intention of the Company to rebuild the bridges over the three rivers in so secure a way that there will be little danger of them being carried away by any flood in the future.

Mr. Walter M. Denny, Jr., has been appointed a clerk in the census department at Washington, and will leave about the 15th inst. to assume the duties of his position. Young Denny is eminently qualified for the place, and we join his many friends in wishing him a profitable and pleasant sojourn in the National Capital.

Old Glory floats over the Algona school.

Mr. N. A. Smith has been appointed postmaster at Barkley, this county.

Mrs. J. A. Kaffman and Miss Gertrude McCradie visited New Orleans Tuesday.

We are informed by an officer here that Marpet Oakwood-Irving never left this town until Tuesday morning last. She has been in the hands of her friends and admirers of East Side, Scranton and Pascagoula. She is perhaps in Chicago now.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen of Canton have passed an ordinance taxing dogs of that city. That a specific or privilege tax shall be levied and collected for the use of the city to be paid into

CIRCUIT COURT.

Circuit court re-opened Monday morning and it has been dragging along slowly up to this (Thursday eve) and very little business has been transacted, but the expense of holding the court runs up rapidly enough and the tax-payers of the county will have to foot the bill. The only cases disposed of up to this time are as follows:

Lake Mills vs. Hunter, Benn & Co. Judgment for $485.67.

R. C. Luce & Son vs. Hollander & Bachland. Judgment for plaintiff.

Joe Catchot vs. town of Ocean Springs. Judgment for defendant.

F. G. & J. R. Spann vs. Joe Ritayik. Judgment for plaintiffs.

After considerable time spent in the Irving-Oakwood case Wednesday on a demurrer to the first indictment. This demurrer was confessed, and a second indictment was presented, to which a demurrer was also filed. Argument on this demurrer occupied most of the day and it was finally overruled by the court. A third indictment was then presented and a demurrer presented, which was overruled. It was then decided to go to trial this Thursday morning on the third indictment, which charges the woman and Oakwood jointly with obtaining $500 and certain jewelry from Capt. C. T. Irving by false pretences.

As the forms of the DEMOCRAT-STAR are being put to press this (Thursday) evening this wonderful and sensational case is being tried. The next issue of this paper will contain full proceedings of the court.

N. B.—Since the above was put in type the court sustained motion to exclude transcript of record of Missouri marriage, and the noted case fell with a dull, sickening thud. Both indictments were nolle prossed after this ruling of the Judge. Dr. and Mrs. Oakwood were soon hurrying through the streets Thursday evening, after the celebrated acquittal.

fully and silently at the foot of a statue, late at West Pascagoula, near the old Leija home. The statue, however, bearing his name, is in mind, leashed through sympathy to though unknown friends of this neighborhood that his brother—the dead soldier, lay in his grave among us—came to us several months ago, to make inquiries and to arrange for the removal of his loved relative's remains. Superintendent E. M. Main, of the Chalmette Cemetery, on orders from the War Department at Washington, visited us Friday, and, accompanied by Mr. Martin Turnbull, our efficient reporter, repaired to West Pascagoula the next morning, where they were joined by Mr. Walter Gautier and a colored man to act as sexton. The remaining bones, so few in number, were exhumed and with tender hands placed in a valise and borne by Mr. Main to New Orleans, where they shall remain side by side with those of his brother heroes until the great "revelles" shall sound—immortal dress parade for all.

Capt. G. M. Maddrell, of the steamship County of York, accompanied by his good wife, gave the Democrat-Star office a pleasant call Wednesday last.

Col. Chas. Marshall, Supt. L. & N. R. R. Co., was here Wednesday, examining the site for the proposed spur on the river front.

The Norwegian bark, Arnfinn, entered at Pascagoula on Thursday, July 30th. She took a 1000-loads of timber from Messrs. Patterson, Downing & Co. and finished loading on Saturday, August 3th, at 9 o'clock a. m. This is the quickest dispatch ever given to a timber-laden vessel in the world.

The following gentlemen from Ocean Springs were in town Monday: Maj. F. M. Weed, Hon. L. C. Manuel, Drs. E. R. Bragg, H. Shannon, Dan Newcomb, D. P. Russell, Judge R. D. Wigginton, Deputy Sheriff J. D. Minor, Messrs. Tom E. Ramer, W. D. Halstead, H. C. Havens, Caspar Vahle and Martin Ryan.

On Wednesday evening Mr. A. Greenlee, who has won for himself the distinction of being a fisherman from way back, made a very successful catch from the Cottage by the Sea pier-head. He hooked an enormous shark and after a struggle of about 15 minutes, he landed a monster. He was assisted by Messrs. Gus Michaels and Foster Buland. The bony animal measured 6 feet 10 inches and weighed 140 pounds.

St. Stanislaus College, Bay St. Louis, Miss., begins its next session Wednesday, Sept. 2nd. The location is a famous health resort, and no pains are spared to bestow on the pupils all the comforts consistent with mainly training. The course of studies is four-fold: Preparatory, Commercial, Scientific and Classical, and is extensive and varied enough to meet the requirements of modern society.

Medals were awarded to this school both at the Paris and Chicago Expositions.

For terms and particulars address the President.

Mr. F. Last Saturday night there was considerable excitement occasioned here over a shooting affray, which took place at a negro picnic. Jim Granberry, a negro, shot and killed his brother Redmond. The former had got into a difficulty with a man named Harris, when Redmond, who was commissioned a special officer, interfered. His brother drew his revolver and shot him through the neck. The unfortunate man died early Sunday morning. The murderer made his escape before Marshal Tardy reached the scene. A description of Granberry has been telegraphed to all points between Mobile and New Orleans. The accused is a light griff, six feet high, with a smiling countenance, and turns his upper lip in laughing. He has a slight mark over the left eye. He has a loose, swinging walk, and wears a No. 10 shoe. He has an enlargement of the big toe on the right foot, and weighs about 170 pounds.

OCEAN SPRINGS, MISSISSIPPI.

Mrs. Josie Frazee Cappleman, of Okolona, Miss., the author of the following communication to the Okolona Sun is a lady of rare literary attainments. She is a poetess of considerable notoriety as well as of prose, and is a member of the Mississippi Press Association and has on many occasions contributed much to make the Press Conventions a literary success. Mrs. Cappleman is sojourning for a few weeks at Ocean Springs for the benefit of her health.

With Sancho Panza I exclaim—great was the invention—water! This is strictly a place of rest and not dress, as are most summer resorts. Anything more stylish than a mother-hubard would frighten the natives, and such a thing as a dress suit is simply unheard of. But, when it comes to water, that is here by a large majority, mineral water, spring water and salt water, by the bucketful and by the barrel, a whole ocean full if you like.

This is undoubtedly the laziest place I have ever seen, read or heard of. You can't be anything but lazy, and all you have to do is to stay a single day and dire-ease has seized upon you. You may come here with all the energy of the bluest blooded Yankee, and your mind made up to accomplish wonders in the literary world, but the deplorable fact soon forces itself upon you that this is a place of rest and nothing more. And the people, ah! the people—the most gracious of people. One scarcely asks from whence they came or whither go, sufficient is the charm of their companionship for the time being, which fully perfects the pleasure of this most restful of resorts.

I am sitting now under the shadow of an immense live-oak with a shipwrecked spar and a mouldering skiff forming a rustic seat of ease and luxury. In front is one broad expanse of surging, swelling sea-water, whose low, monotonous moan fully accords with the picturesque, dream like surroundings of broken cliffs, stretches of white sand and patches of long sea grass. Out upon the wave-crowned waters are the white sails of numerous little vessels darting here and there with their freight of fishes, and sometimes of pleasure parties. On the water is all life and spirit and motion, on the beach all is quiet and restful as if the world were at peace with man and God. And I—I sit and

C. T. Irving Causes the Arrest of His Wife and Her So-Called Brother.

On Monday, February 20th, Sheriff R. J. Loughridge, accompanied by Capt. C. T. Irving, of New Venice, left here armed with a warrant and requisition for the arrest and return of Capt. Irving's wife and reputed brother, Dr. Chas. Oakwood, alias C. O. Wood, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. The requisition was honored by the governor of Missouri, and the papers were placed in the hands of Sheriff Thomas, of Newton county, who executed the same by taking into custody the parties called for at a mining town named Neosho, where the couple lived in a suite of rooms in the rear of a small office. The prisoners were turned over by Sheriff Thomas to Sheriff Loughridge, who brought the alleged criminals to this place and incarcerated them in the county jail at noon on Sunday last. Something over a year ago Capt. Irving opened correspondence with his present wife through a matrimonial bureau, which eventually led to their meeting at Sulphur Springs, Ark. Subsequent developments showed that neither had any fear of again launching their barks on the matrimonial sea, for we next find Capt. Irving and his intended wife on their way to Scranton, the home of Capt. Irving. The marriage settlements being mutually agreeable and the financial assets of each being satisfactory to the other they repaired to Mobile, where they were joined together in the holy bonds of wedlock by the Rev. J. J. Burkett. After the ceremony the happy couple came here to spend their honeymoon at Point o' Pines, and for a time all went merry as the song birds in the woods. The matter is now in the court in the shape of a case for obtaining money under false pretenses and to follow bigamy.

Dear Ms. Persson,

You can contact Else Martin at our Local History and Genealogy Department at the headquarters branch in Pascagoula. I am copying her on this email. We do not keep genealogical records at the Moss Point branch library. I forward all these materials to Ms. Martin. They have an excellent collection that is used by folks from all over the world and a well trained and informed staff and group of volunteers. One of her major volunteers just wrote a history of Moss Point and is a Moss Point resident. His name is Harry McDonald. You might want to see if you can meet with him while you are in this area. I am sure if the information on your ancestor exists, they will be able to help you.

Good luck!

Carol

Dear Else:

Whew!!! No wonder all ties were cut with him!! What an interesting character.

...3 wives, no less! His obituary didn't even mention ONE wife!

How funny...Marylyn is married to my cousin, Al, so sorry for all the extra work you had to do. Haven't been able to talk to her lately as have been wrapping up the school year and have had little time to really map out this trip. We certainly hope to meet you when my sister, Joanie, and I are there next week.

LOUGHRIDGE-DONOVAN.

On Monday evening, St. Joseph's day,
a quiet home wedding took place at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs.
Josephine Donovan, on Pascagoula
river. Mr. Robert J. Loughridge, sheriff of Jackson county, and Miss Fannie A. Donovan were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Father W.
Ten Brink.

After the ceremony the relatives and guests were entertained at a sumptuous supper prepared for the occasion. That the couple is held in high esteem was made manifest by being the recipients of numerous costly and handsome presents. Mr. and Mrs. Loughridge are occupying their cozy home on Ker street near Delmas avenue.

The DEMOCRAT-STAR tenders its best wishes for their future prosperity and happiness.

ANOTHER TYPHOON.

On Monday morning about 7:30 o'clock
during a heavy rainfall a volume of wind confined in a narrow compass
swept up from the mouth of Pascagoula
river and passed over the northern limits
of the town of Pascagoula, tearing down
dead tree limbs, setting on the ground
two tenement houses on Dupont avenue owned by Capt. C. T. Irving, and passing through an open window of the wing
of Mrs. A. E. Krebs' residence tore away
the outer door of the rear bed room. It then veered to the east and blew down fences and tree limbs in its path. While the tug Leo towing a schooner was passing up the river during the storm the tatter was blown to one side, but received no injury. These typhoons or small hurricanes are of frequent occurrence in the Chinese seas, but are very unusual visitors in these waters.

Col. Chas. Marshall stopped here between trains on Tuesday, and being seen by the DEMOCRAT-STAR reporter the popular superintendent of this division of the L. & N. said that this season's tourist business has been the largest since the Gulf Coast resorts have been sought for health and recreation by Northern and Western people. The hotels at Biloxi and Pass Christian are well crowded. He also said that he was gratified and pleased to learn of the efforts being made by the Commercial Club to advertise the advent of the Mobile accommodation train.

Ryan died Tuesday after a short illness.

Vahle's Hotel arrivals: O. H. Ramsay, C. R. Lyon, Atlanta; J. T. Cole, Louisville; J. E. Young, Lumberton;
LaMita Harvane, New York; E. D.
Morbly, St. Louis; Mrs. L. Holder, St.
New Orleans.

Among the charming visitors from Ocean Springs this season is Miss Georgean Harris, of Chicago, who with her mother is a guest of the Shanahan House.

A musical was given Monday evening at the Shanahan House in honor of Miss Gertrude Kuhn, of New Orleans. Instrumental and vocal selections were beautifully rendered by Miss Georgean Harris and Mr. Walter Clark.

Rt. Rev. Hugh Miller Thompson,
Bishop of Mississippi, and Rev. E.
Thompson, of Biloxi, conducted divine service at the Episcopal church Wednesday afternoon. An appreciative congregation was present.

Mrs. Geo. W. Grayson, of Mississippi
City, Misses Stella Harkness, Effie and Linnie Kelley, Ollie Alford, of Biloxi
were Wednesday visitors.

Mr. C. Hanson, of New Orleans spent Saturday and Sunday with a party of friends at his beautiful summer residence, Breezy Point. The occasion of the trip was to celebrate his birthday anniversary.

On Monday Mrs. H. Shannon with her guests, Mrs. W. M. Biddell and Miss Shields, enjoyed an outing to Ship Island on the steamer Georgia.
Mrs. Biddell and Miss Shields returned the next day to Columbia, Tenn.

Recent arrivals at the Shanahan
House: John J. Kuhn, Miss Gertrude
Kuhn, E. Morphy, New Orleans, J. B.
Hughes, San Marcos, Texas; Louis P.
Dugan, New York; John Gilsey, Geo.
N. Mettler, Burlington, Kansas; W.
K. Dungan, Redding, Pa.

Mr. Jesse Lyon is still with Mrs.
Holcomb, and is doing some excellent work by way of repairing the various clocks and watches which have for some time needed attention in Ocean Springs and vicinity. He is lately
from the Waltham Horological School.

Fla., last Sunday, where they will spend three months with relatives.

Prof. Marion G. Evans, who has been recently elected to the chair of English in Centenary College, left a few days ago to take charge of the professorship, to which Hon. A. A.
Kincannon had appointed him, in the Teachers' Summer Normal, at Holly
Springs, Miss., to continue four weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Burton entertained a few of their friends with a star light ride on the steamer Fox
Monday night. Mr. and Mrs. Burton displayed a remarkable talent for entertaining, if one is to judge by the many compliments showered on them.
Music, ice cream and cake rounded up
the affair, and all expressed themselves as well pleased with the evening's pleasure.

Biloxi Herald: Mr. J. W. Stewart,
Grand Master of Odd Fellows, and Mr. Castles, also a prominent member of that order, both of Moss Point, attended a meeting of the Biloxi Lodge
Tuesday night. Mr. Stewart addressed the lodge and took occasion to explain the proceedings of the Grand Lodge, at its recent session, with reference to matters of general interest to the subordinate lodges. Mr. Stewart appreciates the responsibility of his position, and his usefulness to the order is fully recognized.

Prof. W. T. Pate, of the Moss Point

Friends of Moss Point, Miss.

Having received a notice of my election to the Presidency of Centenary College, Jackson, La., and a letter from Bishop Keener, informing me that he has requested Bishop Fitzgerald to appoint me to the college, I take this method of saying good-bye
to the dear friends of Moss Point, Miss. During my stay I have received many Christian courtesies, not only from the members of the Methodist church of whom I have had the honor of being pastor, but from Presbyterians and Baptists of Moss Point. They shall ever be held in grateful memory.
To the church, to my friends of other churches, to the beloved Beall, Myers and Bennett, the brethren of the (3)
Three Links, a regretful farewell.

L. W. COOPER.

At an early hour Wednesday morning the village was alive with people
on foot and in carriages winding their way to the Catholic church, where Miss Madge Irving, the eldest daughter of Capt. C. T. and Mrs. Sarah M.
Irving, plighted her troth with Mr.
Englebert L. Wegman. Promptly at half past eight the organ pealed forth Mandel's Wedding March, under the skillful manipulations of Miss Dora McCarter. The doors opened and the usher marched down the center aisle, followed by Mrs. Irving and near relatives, after which came the bridesmaid, Miss Daisy Irving, escorted by the groomsman, Mr. Albert Irving, brother and sister of the bride. Next the bride, pale as the lilies that adorned her hat, robed in an elegant white silk dress, leaning on the arm of the groom, came to the front of the altar, where they were met by Rev.
Father Ten Brink, who proceeded at once with the ceremony that made them man and wife. After the marriage service, Father Ten Brink, gave the happy couple some excellent advice, which was listened to with attention by the large audience which filled all the available space in the church. After the benediction the audience was dismissed with Lohengrin's Wedding March. May the sunshine of love keep their pathway ever bright, and their home a haven of rest from all the storms of life.

set fire to the ways. Bishop's boiler

yards from the ways, came near igniting,

informs us he will have the ways re-

BULLDOZED BY A BOAR.

A Wild Bear Attacks the Light-house
Keeper on Horn Island—A Desperate Fight and Narrow Escape.

On Monday night last Capt. M. Freeman, keeper of the Horn Island light-house, hearing his dogs barking furiously at something, and not understanding what could thus disturb his usually quiet abode, descended from the light-house to find out the cause of the commotion. On reaching the basement he was attacked by a very large wild boar, whose savage attacks in the dark night came near ending Captain Freeman's life. After a desperate struggle of some minutes the Captain, with the assistance of his dogs, succeeded in vanquishing the deadly enemy, though not until the gentleman was severely wounded. He received a painful gash in the back and was bitten several times on the legs. While his wounds are severe they are not dangerous, and we hope he may soon recover. This is the first instance, we believe, of any one being attacked by a wild hog on Horn Island.

Mr. Jim Byrd Pickett, local agent of the Moerlin Brewing Co., has made an appearance upon our streets in a brand new delivery wagon.

The schooner Eleanor, Capt. A. H. Voss, arrived at Prentz's ship-yard wharf on Monday from Campeche, Mex., after experiencing heavy weather in the gulf.

Owing to the recent heavy rains the streets of Scranton are in need of immediate attention. One of the principal attractions of a town is good streets and sidewalks. The DEMOCRAT-STAR has repeatedly called attention to the necessity of improved streets and sidewalks, and now urges upon all to consider the matter seriously and do all that can be done in front of their own properties.

A new tug boat hull will be launched from the ship-yard of Mr. Christ. Christiansen on Krebs lake next week. It is for Messrs. Rittenhouse Moore & Co., of Mobile. The measurements of the hull are 105 feet in length, 22 feet beam and 9 feet depth of hold. The reputation of the Scranton ship yards has long attracted a good share of business from neighboring ports because of the advantages in material and first-class work done by skilled ship builders.

Mr. Bernard C. Broyles, of Atlanta, representing the Confederate Publishing Co. was a caller at the DEMOCRAT-STAR office last Friday. He was here calling on the old Confederate veterans and getting subscriptions to the history of the Civil War, which is to come out in about twelve volumes, written by some of the most distinguished men of the South who were participants in that great struggle. We understand he got several subscribers to the work here and at Moss Point.

hotel has been postponed to the night of Friday, December 1st. The musical program will be directed by Mrs.
F. M. Weed.

Miss Lottie Hyatt spent several days last week with her parents. The many friends of this popular young lady were glad to welcome her back to her old home.

A very entertaining song service
was held at the Methodist church last Sunday evening under the direction of Mrs. F. M. Weed. This talented musician has promised a like service
every Sunday evening in the church
when the pastor is not here.

Mr. Walter Grayson and bride, nee
Miss Mittie Carroll, of Poplarville, Miss., who were married in New Orleans Wednesday arrived on the coast train the same evening. They were accompanied hither by Mrs. J. C. Orrell and Miss Ella Grayson, who went over to witness the union.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. JERUSIA BYRD, wife of Bro. Reu-
bin Byrd, was very suddenly taken
from the bosom of loved ones on the night of the fifth of November, 1899. She was born Jan. 8, 1874; was married April 27, 1892 and died Nov. 5, 1899. Aged 25
years, 9 months and 27 days.

After Sister Byrd had done her work
for the day and eaten her supper, she
came into the sitting room and had been
talking and laughing for some time.
Her two oldest little girls decided to go
to bed as usual. So the loving mother
heard their little prayers and put them
to bed. After returning to her seat her sweet little baby girl came to her, and
as the family thought she reached down
to take up the baby, when without a
moment's warning to her or the family,
she was in a dying condition, from which
she never recovered. She only drew
three breaths after death came upon her
and never spoke a word.

Sister Byrd was apparently in good health. She was a faithful and affectionate wife; a loving mother, and a devout Christian. She was always looking out for the interest of her children and family. But she has gone to a better world where all is peace.

She left three sweet little children.
The youngest, of course will never know the tender love of a mother. It has no mother to kiss away the little
hurts and heartaches of life.

to their spiritual wants and take
formal charge, beginning the first Sunday in December.

After a long and tiresome battle
with head winds, delaying the vessel
twenty-five days, the Henrietta J.
Powell came to her moorings from Coatzacoalcas, Mexico, minus her jib-
boom last Monday. The many friends
and admirers including all the members of the L. N. Dantzler Lumber
Co. were delighted to welcome home
the genial Capt. W. L. Pinder, as
grave doubts were being entertained
of his safety. The Powell is loading
with 250,000 feet of lumber for Havana.

Miss Catherine Irving, second
daughter of Capt. C. T. and Mrs. Sarah M. Irving and Mr. William Francis Martinez, entry clerk of the Texas
& Pacific Railroad in New Orleans,
were married last Wednesday at 1:30
p. m. in St. Joseph's Chapel here, Rev.
W. Ten Brink officiating. The bride
wore a tasteful gown of white taffeta
silk and her wreath and veil were charmingly arranged. Miss Irving is well known in this community and it
is with deepest regret that her friends
witness her departure from their
midst. Miss Dora Henry, of Mobile
acted as maid of honor and was be-
comingly gowned in lavender henrietta, handsomely trimmed in silk and
lace. Mr. William McCormack, chief clerk of the T. & P. acted as grooms-
man. After the ceremony the bridal party received their relatives and intimate friends at the Irving residence,
and left the same evening for their future home in New Orleans. The DEMOCRAT-STAR extends to Mr. and Mrs. Martinez its heartfelt wishes for their future happiness.

On last Saturday afternoon a meeting of the A. L. O. E. club was held at the home of Mrs. Geo. W. O'Neill.

of boat rides, the first on the tug Dawn and
the second aboard the quarantine launch.

Miss Mollie Smith, a charming and accomplished young lady of Bester, Ala., who has been visiting the family of Mr. J. N. Larson returned home Wednesday, accompanied by Miss Ada Larson.

We had a pleasant visit Monday from Mr.
Chas. G. Moreau, the sprightly and clever editor of the Sea Coast Echo, published in the city of Bay St. Louis, and glad to learn that his paper was in a healthy condition, financially. Mr. Moreau was much pleased with the prosperous evidences that Scranton presented to her visitors.

We have received a copy of the official syllabus for the county institutes of Mississippi
for 1898. It is full of information for teachers who are expected to attend the teachers' institute at the school-house in Scranton on Monday, August 29th. Prof. Goodwin will conduct the colored institute.

The sensible and educated people of this county, as well as other portions of the State,
are fast finding out that the DEMOCRAT-STAR
is the best county paper ever published in the county. Each week its columns are filled with local, editorial and fresh news, which makes it sought after by the wisest and best people. Its subscription list steadily increases day by day, which is gratifying to us.

The little Misses Edwina and Irma O'Con-

lightful visit to the ideal home of Mrs. Ed.
Mitchell, where everything is so charming.
The breezes sweep in from the silvery river
over the wide verandas and spacious hall and through the lovely rooms, which seem very havens of repose.

of Hattiesburg. They intend remaining for the winter, except Mr. R.
E. Sheehy.

Miss Catherine Irving, daughter of Capt. C. T. and Mrs. Sarah M. Irving
will be married to Mr. William F.
Martinez, of New Orleans at St. Joseph's chapel here, on Wednesday, November 22. The bride elect is one of Moss Point's most beautiful and charming daughters, and while her many friends will wish her all the happiness the world can bestow upon her, there will be general regret at her removal to New Orleans.

The view across the river from the L. N. Dantzler Lumber Co.'s elegant offices, is very beautiful at this season.
The clear waters of the Escatawpa
river catches the quiet colors of pine
and cypress growing on the margin,
and reflects back a thousand sparkling tints. The yellow grasses wave an adieu to the summer breezes that are blowing so warm and fragrant

wife through a matrimonial bureau, which eventually led to their meeting at Sulphur Springs, Ark. Subsequent developments showed that neither had any fear of again launching their barks on the matrimonial sea, for we next find Capt. Irving and his intended wife on their way to Scranton, the home of Capt. Irving. The marriage settlements being mutually agreeable and the financial assets of each being satisfactory to the other they repaired to Mobile, where they were joined together in the holy bonds of wedlock by the Rev. J. J. Burgett. After the ceremony the happy couple came here to spend their honeymoon at Point O' Pines, and for a time all went merry as the song birds in the woods. The matter is now in the court in the shape of a case for obtaining money under false pretenses and to follow bigamy.

—It has been ascertained beyond controversy that the old woman who lived in a shoe, in the raising of her numerous family, discarded nauting syrups, and used largely of Brady Family Bitters. "Every body takes."

—Mr. C. T. Irving let the people know through the columns of the Star that at his marine slip and yard he is now prepared to do all work in his line. His location is at the intersection of Pascagoula and Dog rivers, where he will attend to all business with dispatch. See his double-column advertisement.

—Wednesday morning a well-dressed white man was found lying on the side of the New Orleans and Mobile railroad, at Rabbit creek, between Fowl river and Webb's landing, with both legs cut off. He was run over by one of the trains the night previous, but whether freight or passenger is not known.

—It will be seen, by reference to the notice elsewhere in this issue, that Col. Lewis, chairman of the county executive committee, has issued a call for the committee to meet at Scranton, on Saturday, 23d inst. It is desirable that all of the committee should be present, and all others who wish to, have the privilege of attending, and are invited to do so.

STAR-BEAMS.

Daylight is shortening.
Sunday school at 4 o'clock.
Several new announcements.
The mosquito crop looks promising.
A few strangers are visiting Pascagoula this summer.
A street railroad between Scranton and Seashore is the latest.
An interesting communication from S. Pitts will be found elsewhere.
The Turnverein Association of Mobile in an excursion train of six cars at Orleans this week.
A card of thanks will be found here in these columns. Read it; you may be interested therein.
Orssets in great variety, at low prices, received this week at Dees' cash store. Go and examine them.
Last Sunday Bishop Hamberlin led three converts into the fellowship of the Moss Point Baptist church.
Tricoots of latest styles and patterns for the summer are now being sold by Uncle Henry at Dees' store.
Mr. Wm. A. Buck and family, of Mobile, arrived here last Wednesday. They will spend a few months on our shore.
The Indianola, Capt. Bloom, is on duty at R. D. Smith's shipyard, where she will be completely overhauled.
See the notice of "Sheriff's Sale" in the new advertisements, and be sure to bid in the 6th of August to bid in the sale.
The owners of the schooner Inez have had her hauled out on the Pol's shipyard, where she will be overhauled.
Our gilt-edge butter, cheese, dried fruit, etc., we would commend the sale of Wm. S. Goodall, of Mobile.
His ad. in this issue.
We have for sale one of Beatty's Patent Pianos (or Organs) that will be sold at a great bargain. For particulars apply at this office.

cessors to Ober, Anderson & Co., are the largest flour and grain dealers in that city. They are clever gentlemen, and will sell meal, flour, etc., as cheap as the cheapest, and deliver goods on the cars free of charge. See their advertisement in another column.
—Chas. Nelson, at Moss Point, near Randall's ferry, has always on hand a fresh supply of fruit, and both domestic and imported ale and porter, and the celebrated Western lager beer. He also has on hand a quantity of ice, which he will sell in quantities to suit the purchaser. Read his advertisement.
—We are informed by our efficient postmaster, Sam Alley, that the post-office at Orange Grove, on the N. O. and M. road, has been re-established, with Mr. Wm. J. Cowart as postmaster. Now we desire those citizens living there who have been waiting for the opening of this postoffice, to send in their subscriptions to the STAR.
—On Thursday of last week the schooner J. J. Clark, which had been thoroughly overhauled and repaired by C. T. Irving, was launched from his shipyard at Moss Point in the presence of about 150 people. Mr. I. and his estimable lady prepared a fine dinner for the occasion, which was highly enjoyed by all present.
—In the proper column will be found the announcement of Mr. E. G. Walker as a candidate for constable. We know Mr. Walker well, and believe he would make an efficient officer, and as the people at this precinct have not had a capable man in that position for some time we think they could not do better than to elect Walker.
—It is truly refreshing to be so kindly remembered, as we were this week, by one of the fair sex. As we entered our office on Monday morning we found a large basket well-filled with a variety of fresh vegetables, consisting of tomatoes, egg plant, roasting ears, beets and cucumbers—as fine a lot as we have ever seen. The donor, Mme. Pol, has our warmest thanks for this very substantial favor. May she live many years to enjoy the society of her estimable spouse and lovely daughters.
—Shall we have a street railroad to the Seashore, is the question. Such a project would pay handsomely, and we are sure it cannot be built.

mittes from this precinct, to form a precinct executive committee, upon which committee the chair appointed M. B. Richmond, J. W. Starr, L. G. Ryder and L. C. Salter.
The sense of the meeting was then taken as to the best manner of nominating candidates—primary election or convention—which resulted in favor of primary election.

PASCAGOULA DEBARRED.

Inefficient First-Class Accommodations for Summer Guests—Will Somebody Obviate our Sad Drawback and Open a No. 1 Hotel.

It is a well-established and truly authentic concession that the many advantages and superb facilities which our own little seashore villa, Pascagoula, possesses and affords those in quest of health and pleasurable recreation are at least equal, if not in the precedence, of that of any other watering-place along our seacoast section. We have an almost inexhaustible supply of fish, oysters and crabs, which can be easily had at a comparatively low cost and with but little or no trouble whatever, while the delightful salt bathing—the water being furnished by the gulf which lies along our shore—certainly enhances and, in our estimation, renders it an inducement unsurpassed by our neighboring summer resorts. These facts and figures are at once acceptably conceded by all who once visit our town, but, as we learn, the prevalent and universal objection and drawback to this place seems to be based upon a prejudice attributable to the utter lack and sad deficiency of a first-class hotel. But a few days since a party of gentlemen from the upper portion of the State came to this place intending to remain for the entire season. They were at once struck with our beautiful town, but after only spending a few days were necessitated to leave, the fare and accommodations not being what they anticipated or craved. These gentlemen stated that could they have been properly accommodated, and have been able to return a favorable report to their friends, at least 150 persons from their own section would have come down immediately.

WHERE ARE THE CANDIDATES?

Time is flying, we are approaching the Democratic primary in this county, and as yet only three candidates have announced for county offices. There are rumors of other candidates who propose to go before the primary, and it is also rumored that there is to be a mongrel ticket after the primary. It is probable there will not be much fight in the Democratic ranks, but that there may be an attempt to break the ranks. For this reason Democratic candidates should come out early and be up and doing to secure a good party organization. Much depends upon candidates in these matters. A vote in the primary is a pledge of support in the general election. The highest office in the county is that of Representative in the Legislature. Where is the candidate or candidates for that office? If there is a candidate for that office he should come out, be pronounced and as such be actively at work. The people do not like too much presumption; they like to be courted. They want every candidate to "toot his own skillet," to put his shoulder to the wheel in the interest of the party, to let them know in ample time what he wants and what he proposes to do.

We should not be surprised if there should be made up after the primary a regular mongrel ticket. There are some half-breed sore-heads in the county just enough tainted to undertake to pilot through such a rudderless concern. If Democrats will be reasonably true, firm and active, we can easily sink the concern out of sight. All we have to do is to take good care of our own. Hence, the necessity of timely announcements and activity on the part of Democratic candidates that they make sure of holding the party together. They should keep up the interest and get up as much enthusiasm as may be. Come out, gentlemen, and get to work.

MR. A. T. WIMBERLY, Republican, of Coahoma county, this State, has been appointed United States Revenue Collector for the District of Louisiana and Mississippi. The conditions of the deal, it will be remembered, were that all the deputies in Louisiana, together

LOWRY ISLAND.

The board charged with the duty of selling Lowry Island, composed of the Governor, Attorney General and Secretary of State, met at Scranton on Wednesday last and were joined by Mr. J. T. Hamilton, the surveyor of the island.

Upon inquiry of members of the board, it was learned that Mr. Hamilton will prepare parcels for sale, which will be advertised, giving sufficient notice to purchasers.

Some persons desired to purchase on Monday last, but the board, after consulting leading citizens of the vicinity, decided to fix a day of sale in the future, thus affording all an opportunity to buy.

Only one sale was made on Monday, the purchaser having preference under the law by reason of having made improvements on the ground. This party paid $2,000 for two hundred and fifty-two acres, with a frontage of 1,000 feet.

That portion of the island a short distance above and below the railroad bridge, fronting the river, will, when sold in lots of fifty to one hundred acres, bring an excellent price.

There are many valuable sites on the island suited for manufacturing purposes. [Clarion-Ledger.]

The gentleman to whom it was supposed the sale had been made for the handsome price of $2,000, Capt. C. T. Irving, has not only not purchased, but has made an offer of $1,000, which he claims is a good price.

It is a fact that there seems to be a disposition on the part of some manufacturers to locate on Lowry Island as an experiment, which fact has created some excitement among speculators. But the authorities representing the State in putting it on the market seem to be more excited than anyone else. The prices asked by them while here knocked all the breath out of the speculators, and there is danger of getting prices too high for manufacturers.

We should be glad to see the State realize enough, at least, to pay for the survey, but we hardly think there is such a wild rush for manufacturing sites as will justify very high prices. It is an experiment. There are, strictly speaking, no manufacturing sites on the Island. The sites are to be made after buying the water advantages.

It is all rather a modern idea in this country, for which the State, in this instance, is largely indebted to Captain Irving's experiments and enterprise in behalf of the State's interests.

A COMBINE AGAINST STONE.

It seems that there is a disposition to combine the forces against formal candidate, Col. Stone, the largest number of influential men in any other candidate in the field, and stands a fair chance of being nominated on the first ballot. None of his opponents or their friends seems to consider any other candidate in the field at all formidable, and out of this condition the combination seems to grow.

Our account of this state of affairs there is already talk of a dark horse if Col. Stone is not readily nominated. If such be the outcome, and we think it probable, we believe that Col. Stone will be the nominee by a good majority, for we know of no man in the State just now sufficiently magnetic to come in on such an emergency. Quite a large number of our most prominent men were spoken of in connection with the office in the opening of the campaign, and none of them evinced any very great magnetic power.

The reasons for which many oppose Col. Stone are more or less trivial, and in many instances, mere personal prejudice. Such arguments usually have little weight, and are easily overthrown on such occasions. It is evident that the coming down of the three candidates—Barksdale, Taylor and Martin, has increased the strength of Stone more than that of any other candidate.

Gen. Wm. T. Martin is the last retiring candidate so far, but there may be more to follow, if discretion be the better part of valor.

LOWRY ISLAND.

Meeting of the Board of Commissioners at Soranton.

Gov. Robert L. Taylor, Attorney General T. M. H. and Secretary of State J. M. Hamilton, held a meeting at the Noys' Hotel, on last Monday. They considered plans for placing Lowry Island on the market. A number of citizens were interviewed as to prices and sub-divisions to be made, and it was decided to have such position of the Island as is suitable for manufacturing purposes divided into lots of proper size, when the prices will be put on the several lots, and they will be advertised for sale accordingly. This being decided upon, the party left Tuesday morning for Jackson, except Mr. Hamilton, who remained over a few days to look over the land with a view to making the required plat.

Capt. C. T. Irving applied for price and terms on the 240 acre tract upon which his mills and marine ways are located, and he was asked $2500, which was afterward reduced to $2000. He is not satisfied with this price and has offered $1000. He is entitled to the preference for thirty days under the law.

As we have all the while contended that with the exception of a few eligible saw mill sites on Lowry Island the land is of very little value. A sale of one or two sites on the Island at reasonable figures would enable the State to realize well on the entire Island in a few years. Oysters will not grow on the Island, as the experiment has been tried by more than one person and proved a failure. It is true, however, that fiddlers and marsh grass grow luxuriantly, but have no commercial value. We say put the Lowry Island land at a reasonable figure.

Chancery Court Adjourned.

After disposing of the Ice Company case on Tuesday Chancery Court adjourned for the term.

As is well known, the case of the Rose-Meehan Foundry Co., of Chattanooga, Tenn., against the Pascagoula Ice Co. has been pending in the Chancery Court of this county for some time. It occupied almost the entire time of the term just passed and was decided Tuesday night in favor of complainant. The suit was brought to enforce a lien on the ice machinery for a note of $3,450, given in 1892. The ice company defended upon the ground that there was a total failure of consideration. In that the machine was warranted to have a capacity of ten tons of solid clear ice per day, and that it only made about five tons per day during the season of 1892, and about eight tons during the season of 1893, and further that this ice was not of good quality. Much testimony was taken and the case was argued at great length by Judge L. Bragg, of Jackson, on behalf of complainant, and Col. O. B. Sansum, of New Orleans and Hon. E. J. Bowers, of Bay St. Louis, for defendants. Complainant contended that the machine had full capacity of ten or eleven tons per day, and that it had been mismanaged by the defendants. The court held that the machine was of the guaranteed capacity, but, because of defects of construction, allowed the defendants' claim of damages to the amount of one and one-half tons of ice per day during the seasons of 1892 and 1893. Reducing the value of this ice, a decree was entered in favor of complainant for $2,551.09 and costs, and the machinery is ordered to be sold if this is not paid within thirty days. A great many interesting legal and scientific questions were involved and discussed. It was demonstrated that the machine makes the very best quality of ice.

Thos. C. Ruble is attending United States court at Mississippi City this week.

Miss Bella Goff, of Mobile, is visiting her friend, Mrs. H. S. Davis at Ingleside.

Surely the hard times are over, for a while at least. Charcoal is selling at 18 cents.

A protracted meeting at Ezel church will begin Saturday. All are cordially invited to attend.

Willie P. Ramsay, formerly of this place, at now of Moss Point, paid us a flying visit last week.

Misses Dora and Ida Ramsay have returned home, after spending a week very pleasantly with friends in Scranton.

Bruno Havens, of Augusta, passed through our town Sunday enroute for Mississippi City, where he expects to attend court.

Misses Theodosia Thompson and Florence Antry, of Scranton, who have been visiting Miss Laura Martin, returned home Saturday.

Messrs. Joe Martin and Joe Graham, two of our most popular young men, left last Friday for Hattiesburg, where they will spend several days.

Mrs. Rosa Coleman, of Kentucky, is visiting her friend, Mrs. S. G. Ramsey, at Briarrest. Mrs. Coleman is accompanied by her daughter, Miss Helen.

As "Juanita" and "Observer" seem to have taken a back seat, we thought we would come to the front and see how long we would hold the "fort."

The Methodist have no Sunday-school now, owing to the absence of the superintendent, George Ruble, whom we hope will soon return and resume his duties.

"Lover's Oak."

THE CHRONICLE will make good last week's promise to notice at some length the poem "Lover's Oak" written by Mr. Martin Turnbull. Hitherto this paper has made no effort at literary criticism and would not do so now were it not for the unexpected appearance of this little poetical gem relating the doings of a man and a maid under the spreading branches of that sentimental oak on the banks of the Pascagoula. But to the poem. Here is the first stanza:

"Reaching the favorite tree at noon
They sat on the ground in the shade;
She took off her sunbonnet, as soon
As he did his straw hat and said:
'Ahl delightful, is it not?'"

This stanza, as well as the two following, is unique. Nothing like it was ever written before. Noon is perhaps not the most appropriate hour for love making, yet all seasons and hours are Cupid's. But the second line, where "they sat on the ground in the shade," has a poetic suggestiveness of rippling, sparkling waters flowing past moss-covered rocks, and the ground where they sat should be covered with green grass, but alas! they sat on white glistening sand, and the gnarled, scraggy branches of "Lover's Oak" are so scantily supplied with leaves and so uninteresting in their location that the noon-day sun must have scorched the maid's cheek, when "she took off her sunbonnet, and said: 'Ahl delightful, is it not?'" There is some ambiguity about the dislodgement of the bonnet and the fact and the author of the beautiful sentence, "Ahl delightful is it not?" It would be gratifying indeed to know whether she was swift enough to uncer-

Walk for Babies to benefit many

By MIMI BOSARGE

PASCAGOULA — The birth of a child is one of the most exciting events a person can experience. Yet, when there is the possibility of delivering a premature child or a child with birth defects, that joy can turn into anxiety, grief and fear.

Three local families know only too well this feeling. The Roberts of Ocean Springs, the Hintons of Pascagoula and the Crimms in Harrison County have experienced one of life's most dreadful experiences, accompanied by one of life's cruelest.

They share their personal stories.

C.T. Irving family saga fueled by media attention

By JOANNE ANDERSON
Correspondent

A successful businessman and a respected member of the community who was a founder and an ordained elder of the First Presbyterian Church of Pascagoula was at the center of a firestorm of salacious publicity that steamed up local news columns in 1900.

A ship's carpenter who came from Nova Scotia, Charles T. Irving married Sarah Mooney on Dec. 27, 1870. They had four children and homes in Pascagoula and Moss Point. He became a naturalized citizen on May 23, 1882, according to Circuit Court minutes.

An advertisement in the Pascagoula Democrat-Star dated April 14, 1882, announced the startup of his shipyard located on an island where the Pascagoula and Dog (Escatawpa) Rivers intersected:

"New Venice Marine Ways, C.T. Irving, Scranton, Miss. Desires to inform Ship Masters and owners of vessels that he is prepared to Haul Out & Repair all Kinds of Vessels entering the river at the lowest rates and Quickest Dispatch. Spars of all sizes furnished on short notice. Persons wishing Vessel or Barges built, will do well to give us a call. Satisfaction guaranteed in every case. Shingles and wood for sale at Lowest prices."

Business was good, as was Irving's reputation, evidenced by this undated news item: "The Schooner R.W. Brown, owned by W.S. Dodson, Sr., is now in the bay, having recently come off the marine ways of C.T. Irving. She has been thoroughly repaired in the most workmanlike manner, and as Mr. D informs us, at a considerable less cost than he could have had the work done at New Orleans or else where."

Schooners and barges continued to be built and Irving added a sawmill.

In the spring of 1877, he met adversity when fire struck his shipyard. The Star of Pascagoula reported the "marine ways and shed belonging to Mr. Irving at

Join the circle of knowledge at your local library.

Jackson-George Regional Library System wants everyone to visit a branch during National Library Week, which is observed this week. The week is a time to celebrate the contributions of libraries, librarians and library workers in communication nationwide — and the perfect time to discover how to join the circle of knowledge at your library.

"Everyday, libraries in big cities and small towns, colleges and schools help transform their communities," said JGRLS director Michael Hallett. "At our libraries, people of all backgrounds come together for community meetings, lectures and programs, to do research with the assistance of a trained professional, look for a job, to find homework or just to find a good book to read."

Moss Point caught fire and were almost entirely destroyed. The loss was about $1,000.

Undaunted, Irving said he would have the ways repaired immediately and would be ready to haul out vessels with one week. Shortly after, an item reported the shipyard was open for business.

Another account of the fire is in "The History of Moss Point" by Harry McDonald: "On May 12, 1877, the marine ways and shed that belong to C.T. Irving caught fire and were almost entirely destroyed. The fire almost burned Bishop's boiler shop. Mr. Irving's loss was about $1,000. He plans to rebuild."

Irving was appreciative to the community for its help and published a thank you card in the May 16, 1877, issue of the Star:

"I hereby desire to return my sincere thanks to the citizens of Moss Point for their untiring and timely efforts to save my shipyard in the fire of last Sunday evening. Particularly to Dr. Griffin am I indebted for his assistance in saving the property endangered, and also would I acknowledge the kindness and efficient efforts of the colored people in my behalf. Respectfully, C.T. Irving."

From all outward appearances, Irving's family life seemed to be sound. A June 19, 1877, news item in the Star reported on the launching of the overhauled schooner J.J. Clark. The writer described a festive occasion attended by 150 people, adding "Mr. I. and his estimable lady prepared a fine dinner..."

Irving remained active in the community. On Feb. 24, 1890, when the Machpelah Cemetery Association was formed, he was one of the charter members and shareholders. (The association administered the operation and upkeep of the cemetery until 1977 when the city of Pascagoula became custodian.)

But things were not what they seemed. Margie Persson of San Diego, Calif., the great-granddaughter of Charles and Sarah Irving, said the marriage had been unraveling very early on.

"She had him arrested on July 5, 1880, for assault on her person," Persson said in referring to divorce documents in her possession. "At the time she filed for divorce the children were very young: Albert, 6; Percy, 4; Margaret 'Madge,' 2, and Kate/Catherine 'Daisy,' 7 months. The fact she was granted custody (in that era) makes me think that he was indeed an unfit parent and abusive husband."

Persson said the couple also had a child, Kenneth, who died very young.

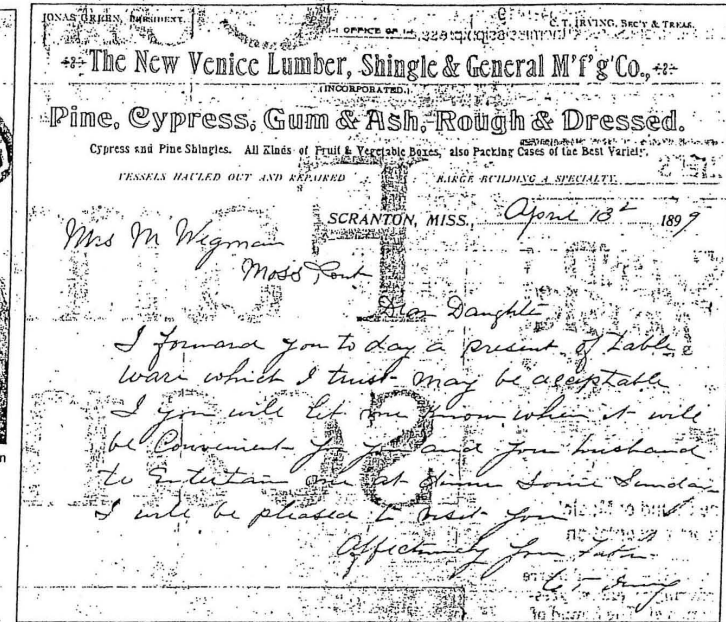

Sarah Irving had all of the photos of Charles destroyed and would not allow him to attend their children's weddings. That explains a letter written by

Irving Family Collection

Sarah and C.T. Irving's daughter Margaret, also known as Madge, married in June 1898 and moved to New Orleans. She and her husband, E.L. Wegmann, eventually settled in Mojave, Calif., and lived on the side of a mountain in the middle of a desert.

Charles Irving to Margaret on Sept. 13, 1891, requesting any family pictures she had be sent to him at his Scranton address. Another letter, dated April 13, 1899, asked Margaret if he could come visit her and said he had forwarded her a wedding present. In 1910, four years before Charles died, Sarah Irving listed herself as a widow to U.S. Census takers.

Chancery Court records show the divorce was finalized on Aug. 12, 1896. No explanation is available to explain the long gap between 1880 and 1896. But, starting in the mid 1890s, Irving's seemingly upstanding life showed signs of unraveling. After being elected elder in the Presbyterian Church in 1894, subsequent undated church minutes from the records of Dora Cirlot cite Irving for failing to perform his duties. A memo noted:

"Owing to the official infidelity of the only ruling elder, Capt. C.T. Irving, who repeatedly refused to attend the services of the sanctuary or to meet at the call of the minister supplying the church for official business, no record of the session has been kept and the records have not been sent up to the Presbytery for examination."

Pascagoula library history and genealogy clerks, Renee Hague and Sherry Owens, conjecture his divorce may have contributed to the demise of his relationship with the church.

Next he would involve himself in an 1899 marriage arranged by a matrimonial bureau to a woman named Marpet-Oakwood Irving. The story takes twists and turns and includes allegations of obtaining money by false pretenses and bigamy. It all came to a head in 1900. The Irving family story continues next week.

Additional information or photos on the Irving family are welcome. M. D. JOHNSON, OS MARSHAL WYLIE BROOME EXAMINE PEELED

Final Rites Held For James Irving Who Dies At 85

Funeral services were held Monday for James Joseph Irving, 85, retired lumberman who died at 12:45 p.m. Saturday at the Brady Nursing Home, Moss Point.

Last rites were conducted at Our Lady of Victories Church by the Rev. Patrick J. Quinn following Rosary Sunday night at Jackson County Mortuary chapel. Interment was in the Krebs' Cemetery, Pascagoula.

A native of Moss Point, Irving had lived in Pascagoula for 11 years. His home was at 257 Mill Road. Taken ill a month ago, he had been in the nursing home for two weeks.

He was employed by Dantzler Lumber Co. at Moss Point for 53 years prior to his retirement 14 years ago.

Survivors are a son, Albert Joseph Irving, Jr., San Diego; two daughters, Miss Rita Anna Irving, New Orleans, and Mrs. Thomas Young, Pascagoula, two grandsons and other relatives.

Pall bearers were Hermes Hague, Pat. Wilson, Gus Darden, Robert A. Delmas, Jr., Robert Talley and Jules Geerken.

Idaho was established as a pioneer state by Nathaniel J. Wyeth, a merchant of Massachusetts.

Lartigue To Appeal Fine And Sentence

Robert Edward Lartigue, jailed after he appeared at an Ingalls guard house with a shotgun and pistol, was fined $200 and given 60 days by city court.

He was charged with carrying a concealed weapon and pointing and aiming a pistol.

Lartigue, police said, will appeal.

The man and his wife, both of Escatawpa, were arrested about 1:30 a.m. Thursday at No. 2 gate of Ingalls.

Charges against the woman were dropped.

Services Sunday For Cecil Pilgrim

Cecil Pilgrim of Pascagoula died Friday at Singing River Hospital where he had been a patient only a short time.

A taxi driver, he had lived in Pascagoula for eight years and resided at 377 Canty Street.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday at Fails Chapel by the Rev. C. R. Simpson, pastor of Riverside Baptist Church. Burial was in Griffin Cemetery.

Active and honorary pall bearers were fellow taxi drivers.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Winnie Pilgrim and a sister, Mrs. John McLemore, Mobile.

By act of Congress, the Army and Navy can incorporate the Red Cross into military service.

MRS. SARAH MOONEY IRVING.
MAY 29, 1927
Following a lingering illness, covering a period of several years, although she was not confined to her bed all the time, Mrs. Sarah Irving died at her home in Moss Point Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.
Mrs. Irving was born in Ireland on December 27, 1845, but came to this country at the age of two years,
moving with her parents to New Orleans. She had lived in Moss Point for fifty years, having taught a private school during her early residence in Moss Point.
Though of a reserved nature she was a devoted mother and a devout
member of the Catholic church, always attending services even until late years, when her health would permit.
The funeral services, attended by a large number of sorrowing relatives and friends held from her late residence Monday afternoon, were conducted by Rev. Father B.
O'Reilly of Pascagoula and interment made in the Griffin cemetery.
Out of respect for her and her family (her two sons being employed as foreman and lumber inspector by the L. N. Dantzler Co.), the mill was closed for the day.
Mrs. Irving is survived by two sons, A. J. and Percy G. Irving,

Natural Gas
Natural gas may be another of the developments of this tract. It is known that a gas well exists on the old De Lamorton place near some of the Ren Pass lands, gas having been brought in several years ago and the well allowed to burn a while until it
finally caved in and was abandoned.
There are many persons who believe that in the vicinity of Kreole is a productive oil and gas field. It is the intention of Messrs Rennyson and Passers to make a test of this field
for gas, and if it is discovered in paying quantities industries of various kinds will be located on the tract and in Pascagoula. One combination they have in mind is natural gas and Horn Island sand, a combination which is claimed will produce the finest kind of glass. But this, of course, is only a dream of these gentlemen at the present time, but a dream that may come true in a few short years.

Quien Sabe?
This story does not deal with the resort features of the Ren-Pass tract. That ultimately the beach front section of the land will be converted into a magnificent hotel and residence subdivision, with golf courses,
riding paths, boat houses, boulevards, parks, etc., on a scale greater than any present development of the kind in this section, is part of the plans of these two enterprising New Orleans gentlemen, but they have no definite announcement on that subject to make at present, but there is one thing sure, that Ren-Pass beach
will ultimately be one of Pascagoula's
most attractive assets.

Mississippi district congressman has been invited to make the Woodrow Wilson memorial address at Camden, New Jersey, December 28. The invitation was extended by Joseph T. Tumulty, the world war president's secretary. Congressman Wilson declined the invitation for the reason that he had made arrangements to spend the holidays in Mississippi with his mother.

Representative Wilson, who spoke in New Jersey several times this year in interest of the democratic ticket for the presidency, was the unanimous selection of the committee in charge to make the principal address at this annual Wilson service, one of the leading democratic events of the nation.

ROBERT FREEMAN IRVING.

At Sanatorium, Miss., December 16, Robert Freeman Irving died following a three months stay at the Mississippi State Tuberculosis Sanatorium. The funeral took place Tuesday, December 18, at Escatawpa, where the deceased had made his home for the larger part of his life. Interment was at Macpelah cemetery.

Mr. Irving is survived by two daughters, Mrs. A. A. Greenough, of Escatawpa, and Mrs. W. C. Stevens, of New Orleans. He was born in Washington county, Florida, 64 years ago.

LANGUAGE STUDENTS SHOW SPLENDID PROGRESS IN PLAY

Mediaeval Play, Translated From Latin, Is Presented at Chapel at School.

The foreign language department of the Pascagoula High school presented a program at the chapel exercises Tuesday morning which was indicative of the splendid work being done by that department this year under the direction of Miss Helen Wadlow, instructor in Spanish, and Miss Betty McLaughlin, Latin instructor.

A mediaeval play, "The Miracle of Saint Nicholas," translated from the Latin into English rhyme by Miss McLaughlin, was presented with a cast composed of Marguerite Pickett, Mary Alice Sparkman, Amelia Pickett, Louise Saucier, Eleanor Walker and Yvonne Daggett. As an appropriate epilogue to the play, "Adeste Fideles," a mediaeval Christmas coral, was sung in the original by the students of the Latin classes.

The body of Mr. Robert H. Irving, who died in Dausette, Texas, last week, was brought here Saturday afternoon to the home of his sister, Mrs. Rider, where it remained until Monday night, when friends accompanied it to Rome, Ga., where the services and interment took place. The body was brought to Pascagoula by the widow and son of the deceased.

Mr. Rouse is survived by his wife, a son ten years old. He also has a father, several brothers and sisters, and numerous other relatives in Pascagoula and other Coast cities.

SHOPPING IN FU SANTA

Pascagoula Merchants Means Best Selection

To the kids who look forward to the annual visit of Santa Claus, like an age from one Yuletide to another, and the last few weeks of the eventful Christmas Eve seem like an age from one Yuletide to the other, the older folk, who have ceased to receive gifts from the old Saint, one Christmas hard before another is here.

About the only difference in the age is concerned is that for youngsters it means that bring many gifts and much happiness to the older folk—well they give old Santa a lot of help which he is scheduled to deliver the night before Christmas. Old Santa, such a jolly, good natured old fellow that no one hesitates a minute to give him a lift.

Just now the merchants are at their utmost to lend him a hand. There is much to be done before Christmas Eve and this is why store keepers are busying themselves about. For some days past the spirit has been in the air. There have been touched up with color here and there, and decorations are in order. In the stores additional counting tables have been placed to

Capt. Irving Dead

The death of Capt. Charles T. Irving at the infirmary in Mobile Tuesday mornig was a shock to his friends and acquaintances at this port. He had been suffering for several months with chronic troubles of the stomach and sought cures at a number of health resorts. Capt. Irving was born in Scotland and came to this country in his early manhood. He was the gulf representative of the Record for American Shipping and was also connected with other enterprises. He possessed a strong personality and won the confidence of his associates. He built the Irving Place at the seashore and took much pride in attracting attention to our delightful resort. Percy Irving, 74, Dies Following Lengthy Illness

George Percy Irving, 74, native and lifelong resident of Moss Point, died at the county hospital Tuesday after a lengthy illness.

Son of the late Charles and Sarah Mooney Irving, he was a member of one of Moss Point's oldest families. He married the former Miss Helena Frentz, member of a well known Pascagoula family. They lived in the Irving home on Dantzler street.

Worked at Big Mill

For years Mr. Irving was employed by the Dantzler Lumber Company, working first in the Big Mill and then, until the mills closed, as operations superintendent of the band mill. He was later employed by Peterzell-Gelles and at the time of his death was employed by the city.

He is survived by his widow; one brother, Albert J. Irving, Pascagoula, and two sisters, Mrs. Daisy Martinez, New Orleans, and Mrs. E. L. Wegmann, Mojave, Calif.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from Fails chapel and the Moss Point Catholic church with the Rev. P. J. Hannelly officiating. Interment was in Griffin cemetery.

Active pall bearers were Edward A. Khayat, E. W. Cirlot, P. M. Fairley, W. G. S. Stewart, C. T. Wilson and Frances Johnson. Honorary pall bearers were W. B. Alberts, Fred Taylor, John Hill and James Gautier.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. JERUSIA BYRD, wife of Bro. Reu-
bin Byrd, was very suddenly taken
from the bosom of loved ones on the night of the fifth of November, 1899. She was born Jan. 8, 1874; was married April 27, 1892 and died Nov. 5, 1899. Aged 25
years, 9 months and 27 days.

After Sister Byrd had done her work
for the day and eaten her supper, she
came into the sitting room and had been
talking and laughing for some time.
Her two oldest little girls decided to go
to bed as usual. So the loving mother
heard their little prayers and put them
to bed. After returning to her seat her
sweet little baby girl came to her, and
as the family thought she reached down
to take up the baby, when without a
moment's warning to her or the family,
she was in a dying condition, from which
she never recovered. She only drew
three breaths after death came upon her
and never spoke a word.

Sister Byrd was apparently in good
health. She was a faithful and affectionate wife; a loving mother, and a devout Christian. She was always looking
out for the interest of her children and
family. But she has gone to a better
world where all is peace.

She left three sweet little children.
The youngest, of course will never
know the tender love of a mother. It
has no mother to kiss away the little
hurts and heartaches of life.

She left a faithful and affectionate husband and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her loss. But remember, dear ones that your loss is her gain.
So "be faithful unto death," and the Lord says He "will give you a crown of life." Weep not, dear ones, but look up and press on, and you will meet her on that bright, happy shore where parting never comes. And when we are done working here, He will say as unto the one that is gone on before you, "Come ye blessed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you."

to their spiritual wants and take
formal charge, beginning the first
Sunday in December.

After a long and tiresome battle
with head winds, delaying the vessel
twenty-five days, the Henrietta J.
Powell came to her moorings from Coatzacoalcos, Mexico, minus her jib-
boom last Monday. The many friends
and admirers including all the members of the L. N. Dantzler Lumber
Co. were delighted to welcome home
the genial Capt. W. L. Pinder, as
grave doubts were being entertained
of his safety. The Powell is loading
with 250,000 feet of lumber for Hav-
ana.

Miss Catherine Irving, second
daughter of Capt. C. T. and Mrs. Sarah M. Irving and Mr. William Francis Martinez, entry clerk of the Texas
& Pacific Railroad in New Orleans,
were married last Wednesday at 1:30
p. m. in St. Joseph's Chapel here, Rev.
W. Ten Brink officiating. The bride
wore a tasteful gown of white taffeta
silk and her wreath and veil were charmingly arranged. Miss Irving is well known in this community and it
is with deepest regret that her friends
witness her departure from their
midst. Miss Dora Henry, of Mobile
acted as maid of honor and was be-
comingly gowned in lavender henriet-
ta, handsomely trimmed in silk and
lace. Mr. William McCormack, chief
clerk of the T. & P. acted as grooms-
man. After the ceremony the bridal party received their relatives and intimate friends at the Irving residence,
and left the same evening for their
future home in New Orleans. The
DEMOCRAT-STAR extends to Mr. and
Mrs. Martinez its heartfelt wishes for
their future happiness.

On last Saturday afternoon a meeting of the A. L. O. E. club was held
at the home of Mrs. Geo. W. O'Neill,
the following members being present
at the same: Mesdames A. M. Cowan, J. Bounds, Stone McInnis, R. J. Borden, Oliver C. Cowan, J. J. McIntosh,
F. Colmer, H. C. Burton, J. E. Carpen-
